

PLATTE DE LYMAN DEAD

President of San Juan Stake
Passed Away Last
Wednesday.

Platte D. Lyman, president of the San Juan stake, died last Wednesday of cancer. The announcement was made in a dispatch to President Joseph F. Smith yesterday from F. B. Hammond of Moab. No particulars were given except that the end was attended by great suffering. The news will convey a shock to President Lyman's many friends throughout the state, few of whom were aware of his condition. On his way home from Europe last summer President Lyman first felt the effects of a cancerous growth under his right arm. At first he thought little of the affliction, but it grew worse gradually and a few weeks ago he was compelled to undergo a critical surgical operation at Provo. He seemed to be getting better after the operation, but during the general conference last October he met and shook hands with a great number of people. The affliction, which was a cancerous growth, was a very sick man. He suffered agonies from that time on to the day of his death.

Platte DeAlton Lyman was born on the Platte river, opposite Fort Laramie, Wyo., Aug. 26, 1848, while his parents, Amos M. and Eliza Partridge Lyman, were crossing the plains to Utah. The first fifteen years of his life were spent in Salt Lake City. He moved with his family to Fillmore, Millard county from here. In May, 1867, he left upon his first mission to Great Britain, laboring in the Kent and London conferences. He became president of the latter and was released to come home on his 21st birthday. After his arrival here he became a high counselor in the Millard Stake and in 1871 was sent to Oak Creek as a pioneer, afterwards being bishop of that ward. He filled a second mission to Great Britain while holding that position. In 1879 President Lyman was called by President John Taylor to labor in the San Juan mission. He was an assistant of President Elias S. Smith in pioneering the country. In 1884, being then president of the Saints in the San Juan district, he was released to return to Millard county, where he labored in 1887 he moved back to San Juan with his family and was chosen second counselor to the late President F. A. Hammond.

President Lyman was called to preside over the European mission in 1888 and returned last summer. At the death of President Hammond he became president of San Juan stake and was well loved by his people.

President Lyman was a brother of Apostle F. M. Lyman and an uncle of Mrs. W. H. King.

JOSIE CRONIN'S CASE.

Homeless Girl Sent to the Reform School.

Judge Stewart yesterday committed Josie Cronin, a homeless girl of 16 years, to the state reform school on testimony of Policemen Burbridge and Chase and D. Jacoby and T. Thomas. The offense of the vicious incorrigible was charged against her and it was stated that she had been found in company with Ernest Elk, Will Donahoe and S. Harrison, three messengers, in a room at the rear of the Board of Trade building. The girl stated that her mother was dead and that she did not know where her father was.

EPWORTH LEAGUE LECTURES

Entertainments That Will Continue Through the Winter.

The Epworth league of Salt Lake has prepared a course of lectures and entertainments for the winter that promises to attract much attention. The entertainments are to be a highly popular nature; they will include two musical events and three lectures.

The opening will be on Monday evening, Nov. 25, with the Slaxton Jubilee Stagers, nine professional colored singers, including a fine quartette. On Tuesday evening, Jan. 30, Dr. J. L. Albritton, pastor of the First Methodist church, will lecture on "Rutherford B. Hayes." Dr. Albritton was President Hayes' pastor for three years and conducted the funeral obsequies when he died. The lecture will be in the nature of a eulogy. Thursday evening, Feb. 27, Colonel L. F. Copeland will lecture on "Seeing the Elephant." Thursday evening, March 27, a concert will be given by the best talent that the city affords. The closing number will be on Tuesday evening, April 23, a lecture by George A. Wendling, "The Man of Galilee."

The entertainments will all be given in the First Methodist church under the auspices of the Epworth league.

TANGLE OF LIVE WIRES.

Men and Horses Were in Danger of Electrocution.

Four horses and three men came nearly being electrocuted yesterday afternoon on South Temple street near Seventh East. The Butcher brothers, George, Ike and Frank, were engaged in moving a fine house and while the outfit was being pulled along rollers to cross the car track the roof caught the trolley wires and before the men knew what was doing they were in the midst of dangling wires and shooting electricity. How they escaped serious injury, if not death, is miraculous. The rear span of horses danced around and the men were bewildered and partially stunned from coming in contact with the deadly wires, and it required several minutes to bring order out of chaos. The breaking of the wires and the blocking of the track prevented the street car from passing and it became necessary to transfer passengers for a couple of hours.

Eighteen Months For Levey. Charles O. Levey, who on Wednesday was convicted of the crime of breaking into the Madi Currier Palace house on lower West Temple street last July, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Stewart to serve eighteen months in the state prison.

NEW REFORM ORDER.

All Saloons and Gambling Houses Closed Last Night.

The saloons and the gambling houses closed promptly at midnight last night and will remain so until Monday morning. This is in accordance with orders delivered yesterday afternoon by the chief of police and captain, who notified all proprietors that reform was again in order. All of the places promptly obeyed the mandate. President Shurtliff of the executive committee of the Law and Order league stated yesterday that the committee will soon hold another meeting, and take up the question of violations of the law in regard to slot machines.

WEBER AND DAVIS CANAL.

Proposition to Increase Capitalization Deferred.

The meeting of shareholders in the Weber and Davis canal held yesterday in the court house was adjourned over to next Saturday, there not being two-thirds of the shares represented and that number being necessary in order to vote on the proposition to increase the capital stock from $250,000 to $500,000. The increase proposed is for the purpose of putting the canal company on a financial basis suitable for carrying the increased flow of water which has been appropriated and arranged for by the reservoir. Much of this work has been done in Weber canyon and the canal capacity to the mouth of the canyon is for 300 cubic feet per second. The capacity of the ditch from that on is for but half that amount, but the improvement from year to year will be increased to the full capacity.

FOR THE RESERVOIR.
Farmers Organizing For South Fork Project.

A number of the farmers interested in the building of a new reservoir on lands known as the meadows, in South Fork canyon, held a meeting yesterday in the court house and after appointing Moroni Sken and F. S. Miller as a committee to negotiate for the purchase of the land needed, the meeting adjourned to convene again next Saturday. The land needed is owned by Mr. Sken, Barrows Bros., and Joseph S. Peery.

The projectors hope to incorporate next Saturday and to have the reservoir in shape to store water for next season.

TO PAVE OR NOT TO PAVE.

Question Likely to Be Determined This Week.

Among the important matters which will probably come before the city council for settlement this week is the paving of Washington avenue. The committee from the council and the advisory committee from the property owners have held several meetings during the past week. It is understood that matters are somewhat complicated by the change in sentiment of some of the property owners. Some of them do not, it is said, now desire to go ahead with the work. There is little or no opposition to the paving between Twenty-third and Twenty-fifth streets, but there is some objection to the paving between Twenty-second and Twenty-third and between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth. However, the consent of the required number of property owners was previously obtained, and the ordinance passed and signed for the paving of the four blocks. A rough estimate of contract prices puts the cost of paving at about $15,000 per block for first-class work. The paving of Twenty-fifth street three blocks cost about $85,000.

Ogden Church Announcements.
Rev. Ora C. Wright, who arrived from South Dakota Thursday last, will preach his first sermon this morning at the Baptist church. The other usual services will be observed. The Gospel Mission, 353 Twenty-fourth street, has a special service for colored people. Services Sunday and Thursday night at 7:30. All welcome. The Ladies' Art club meet next Wednesday at 3 p. m. First Presbyterian Church—Preaching morning and evening by the pastor. Morning services at 11 from Psalm lxxxviii, 12, "The Land of Forgetfulness." Evening service at 7:30, from Mark 11, 5. Special music at each service.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner Twenty-fourth and Lincoln avenue. Services at 11 a. m. Subject, "Soul and Body." Sunday school, 10:15 a. m. Wednesday evening meeting 7:30 p. m. All cordially invited. Free reading rooms, suite 212 Eccles building, open daily from 2 to 5 p. m. All welcome.

Shot While Hunting.

A lad named Brown, 11 years old, and a son of the late Bishop Moran Brown, accidentally shot himself in the thigh yesterday morning with a 22 calibre rifle while out hunting west of the city. The bullet ranged downward and inflicted a dangerous wound. County Commissioner Lyman Sheen found the boy lying in the county road and brought him to the city, where he received medical attendance. The bullet has not been located.

Mrs. Coulter's Address.
Mrs. C. E. Coulter, president of the Utah Federation of Women's Clubs, will deliver her federation address before the Child Culture club at the home of Mrs. J. Anderson Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All club members, whether connected with organization in the federation or not, are invited to be present.

What S. S. S. Does for Children

Children are constantly exposed to all sorts of diseases. The air they breathe is filled with germs, sewer gas and dust from the filthy streets are inhaled into the lungs and taken into the blood. At the crowded school rooms and other public places they come in contact almost daily with others recovering from or in the first stages of contagious diseases. You can't quarantine against the balance of the world, and the best you can do is to keep their blood in good condition, and thus prevent or at least mitigate the disease. You have perhaps learned from observation or experience that healthy, robust children (and this means, of course, children whose blood is pure) are not nearly so liable to contract diseases peculiar to them, and when they do it is generally in a mild form. On the other hand, weak, emaciated and sickly ones seem to catch every disease that comes along. This is because their blood is lacking in all the elements necessary to sustain and build up the body. Poisons of every description accumulate in the system, because the polluted and sluggish blood is unable to perform its proper functions.

QUESTION OF LIABILITY.

Suit For Possession of a Traveling Man's Trunks.

The time of Justice Kroeger was consumed yesterday in the trial of the case of George W. Dittmann & Co., boot and shoe manufacturers of St. Louis, vs. Sam C. Ewing, proprietor of the Cullen hotel, for the recovery of two trunks containing samples of the firm's wares, valued at $275. The evidence went to show that on May 18 of the present year, J. C. Jeffers, a salesman for the Dittmann company, put up at the hotel and stayed until July 6, on which date he disappeared, owing a bill of $71. The trunks belong to Dittmann, but the hotel man strongly resists giving them up until the bill is paid. The question involved has often been raised. Arguments were completed last night by Stewart & Stewart for the plaintiff, and Henderson & Brown for the defendant. Justice Kroeger withheld his decision.

Such children need a blood purifier and tonic to give strength and vitality to their blood, and S. S. S., being a purely vegetable remedy, makes it the safest and best for the delicate constitutions of children. S. S. S. is not only a perfect blood medicine, but is pre-eminently the tonic for children; it increases their appetites and strengthens the digestion and assimilation of food. If your children have any hereditary or acquired taint in their blood, give them S. S. S. and write to our physicians for any information or advice wanted; this will cost you nothing, and will start the little weaklings on the road to recovery. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.
